

Learn English with games!!

TSAI YI-FAN

National Chi Nan University, Dept. of International Business Studies Master Program

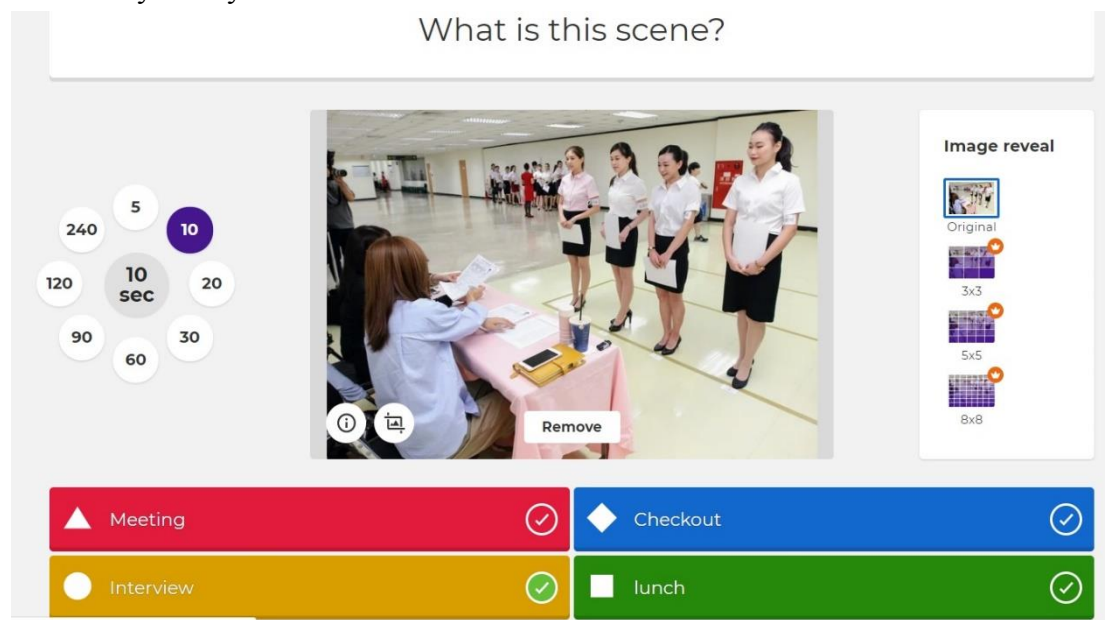

Level: Basis

Activity time: 20 minutes

Students are employees of the company. They have been away from school for a long time. They are tired of textbooks and reject paper writing. They are used to using smartphones and PCs. Teaching media can always attract students. Teachers can use visual teaching media to create more teaching materials to help students practice reading and listening.

Kahoot is a website that creates learning games that allow teachers to create teaching materials using images and videos. I created a quiz game classroom where students choose the correct answer according to the narrative of the picture. The teacher can choose to choose single player or groups game. This game trains students' reading and vocabulary ability.

This is a simple game that trains students' reading ability. Students don't need to prepare in advance. They can play this game on any device. Teachers can evaluate students' learning according to each student's answer.

Teachers can set the response time according to the English level of the students. For students with low English proficiency, teachers should set a longer time.

Teaching materials can use video, students choose the right answer according to what they hear..
